Vulcan, Alberta

53rd Year, No. 11

At St. Aldhelm's

Funeral Service Thursday For Pioneer Merchant

A Vulcan businessman for 41 years before his retirement, Godfrey Cyril Collier died suddenly on Sunday, Oct. 10, 1965 at the age of 76 years.

Born at Cerne Abbas, Dorset, England, he came to Manitoba in 1908 and to Lethbridge in 1909. In 1918 he moved to Vulcan and from 1921 until his retirement in 1962 owned and operated a hardware store here.

He was a Past Master of the Vulcan Masonic Lodge, a Past Noble Grand of Samaritan Lodge, I.O.O.F., a life member of the Vulcan Curling Club and an honorary member of the Vulcan Branch Royal Canadian Legion.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Nelson (Ruby) Jamison and Mrs. Stuart (Nora) Campbell, both of Vulcan; two sons, Russell of Calgary and Albert of Carbon; 10 grandchildren; three brothers, William Collier, Mayerthorpe, Sidney Collier, Carmangay, and Bert Collier, Klamath Falls, Ore. He was predeceased by his wife, Violet, in 1962.

Services will be conducted by Rev. Victor Cowell at St. Aldhelm's Anglican Church, Vulcan, on Thursday, Oct. 14, at 2:00 p.m. and interment will follow in the Vulcan cemetery. The Vulcan Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Harvest End Now In Sight

Combining continues in full swing throughout the County of Vulcan area this week and harvesting in most districts will be pretty well completed by about October 17 if the weather continues dry.

Every day brings more reports of farmers completing their late harvest and their combines moving on to help a neighbor get finished. Travers, Lomond and Carmangay grain buyers report that average yields of spring wheat in their districts are not expected to be more than 20 to 22 bushels per acre, but most other districts forecast an average yield of 30 to 35 bushels per acre. Grade of spring wheat now being combined will range from 3 Northern down to 6 and feed where crops were late and were frozen, but most wheat in the county will grade 4 Northern.

A weather disturbance accompanied by scattered showers held up harvest operations in some districts as much as a full day the middle of last week and the possibility of showers the middle of this week is forecast.

Novel Children's Parade Urges Centre Support

Vulcan was picketed last Saturday afternoon. It was mostly a friendly demonstration though as about 100 poster and placard carrying young boys and girls paraded through Vulcan's downtown business section extolling the virtues of the proposed Vulcan and District Recreation Centre and encouraging the adult ratepayer population to vote in favor of the bylaw which will free money for the project.

At time of publication of this issue results of the balloting were not known but if it failed the children were assured they had done their best for the cause.

In an effort to point up the use which the youth of the town and district can get from the centre, the Recreation committee organized the kiddies parade in which they were asked to make banners or posters which would express their feelings about this project. The response was far greater than was anticipated. Three-quarters of an hour before the 1:30 starting time children began gathering at the recreation centre site and by the time the parade was made up the line of marchers, in pairs, stretched more than a block long.

Tamping Machine Lost In Break-in

A heavy tamping machine that is a good load for two men would not normally be considered an attractive article to steal, but this was the main item of loot taken in a break-in at the tool shed of Cascade Builders, last Saturday night at the site of the new nursing home now under construction.

The heavy gas-operated machine, valued at $1,000, and a few smaller tools were taken by the thieves. Vulcan Town Police investigated the robbery.

Eighteen Combines, Trucks Converge On Ernie Bowie Farm To Lend a Helping Hand

your neighbor is still very much alive in the west, as was proven on Sunday, Oct. 3, when the neighbors of Ernie Bowie, who was hospitalized for surgery, gathered with combines and trucks at the Bowie farm 15 miles south-east of Vulcan and completed his harvesting before starting on their own.

It was the first day that wheat in the swath was dry enough to be combined and every farmer was anxious to get started harvesting his own crop, but when the call went out to help a neighbor they quickly responded with combines, trucks, loaders and manpower. With 18 combines, 10 trucks and eight grain loaders in operation Mr. Bowie's 320 acres of crop was combined and binned in about six hours, the big job being completed about 3:00 p.m.

Contributing combines, trucks or both plus their own services were Reid Hill district farmers Bruce McKay, Reinhold Lundgren, Walter Dann, Carson McKay, Brian Todd, Lawrence Orchard, Martin Dave Crabb, Roy Deal, Louis Gottenberg, Tom Houlton, Terry White, Charlie Andrews, Earl Erickson, Fred Geschwendt, Ernie Lind, Pete Fritzler, Everett McIntyre, Gordon Gardner, Gordon Chapman, Burnell Drummond, Dick Myers and Walter Mix, plus Buford Walker and his truck. Operating the grain loaders were

Dave Crabb, Roy Deal, Louis Hammer, Clayton MacMillan, Wally Franks, Mel Eamor and E. G. McPherson and among the neighbors who helped prepare and serve the mid-day meal were Mrs. L. Orchard, Mrs. W. Mix and Mrs. G. McKay.

Swath Fire Threatens Field

At the Eugene MacLean farm several miles west of Vulcan they have an added problem to those of bad weather, shortage of labor and a heavy year for breakdowns. One of their swathed fields was set afire last weekend.

Between 4:00 a.m. and 5:00 a.m. Sunday morning a trucker hauling a granary along the Connemara road spotted flames in a field of MacLean property and rushed to the Atkinson farm to warn the owners. By the time they arrived the blaze, luckily there was very little wind and the grain was damp so it was not difficult to control.

Had there been a high wind and dry grain the flames could have run the length of the field and into a field of Steve Dixon's where harvesting machinery was parked.

About 200 yards of swath were involved and the evidence towards it being an intentional act by someone rather than accidental is in the fact that the fire was along the second swath in from the fence line, which is too far for a thrown match or cigarette butt and in that at one spot it appears straw was bunched into a pile possibly to start the blaze.

At least two other fires, these along ditch lines during haying season this summer have been fought by farmers along the same road only a few miles apart.

Friends Gather To Reminisce With 80-year-old Pioneer

Some 125 friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Loss Kuykendall called at their home Sunday afternoon and evening, when Open House was held in honor of Mr. Kuykendall, on the occasion of his 80th birthday.

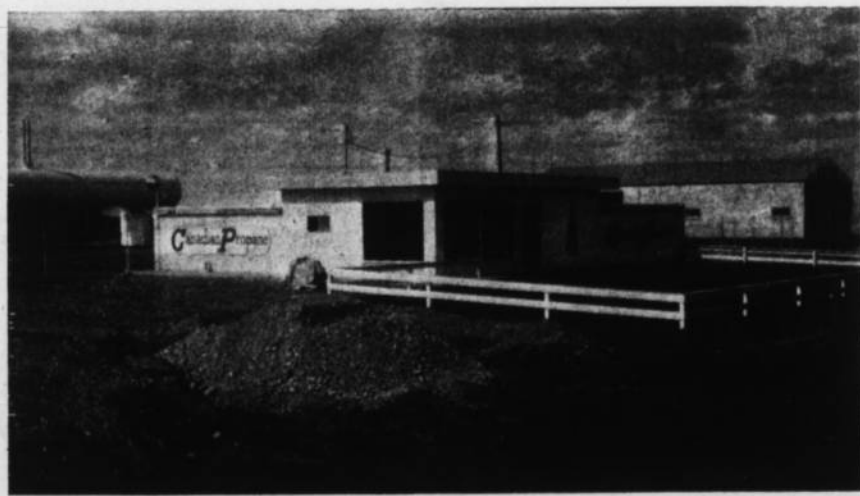

A most happy day of reminiscing and visiting was enjoyed by the callers and a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Kuykendall and members of the family. A beautifully decorated birthday cake held the place of honor on the tea table, and was flanked by bouquets of dainty flowers. A number of wires of congratulations and many phone calls were received from Vancouver and U.S. points from those unable to be present.

Among members of the family and close friends in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mjolsness and family, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Wills, of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kuykendall and family of Medicine Hat; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kuykendall and Mrs. S. Dunbar of Grande Prairie; Mrs. Maude Cunningham of Seattle, Wash.; Miss Gladys Baden and Hugh Baden, Mr. and Mrs. George Todd and Mr. and Mrs. Nate Ellithorpe, Calgary, and friends from Lomond, Sundre and other districts. Mr. Kuykendall has lived in the area for many years, farming until his retirement, east of town.

COMMUNITY GROWTH. Two new business dealerships which have located at Vulcan this summer are pictured above. They are Canadian Propane and Canadian Co-operative Implements Ltd. and are located on the road leading to the County Abattoir. Construction began earlier this summer on the propane distribution plant and manager Ken Gillis, formerly of the High River plant, is servicing his regular customers and hopes to have everything in full operation to meet the heavier fall and winter demand. Ken and his wife Ethel are now settled at Vulcan and members of their family, Harvey, Neil and Terry, are enrolled at local schools.

As in the case of the propane plant the interior of the C.C.I.L. building is still being completed but this full fledged co-operative has been doing business since the end of July. Including manager Tom Brothers there is a staff of four including a service man, licensed mechanic, parts man and warehouse man and so far about $20,000 to $30,000 worth of parts is on hand. The co-op has future expectations of carrying between $100,000 and $200,000 worth of machinery to be moved throughout the county. C.C.I.L. has a factory at Winnipeg which manufactures its own swathers and discers and all types of farm machinery are handled by this operation. Mr. Brothers and his wife Elaine and two children are now settled in Vulcan.

S.C. Leader at Vulcan

Clate Williams, Arrowwood Dist. Oldtimer Passes

A resident of the Arrowwood district for the past 48 years, Clate Williams, aged 74, died at his home Friday, Oct. 8, 1965.

Mr. Williams was born in 1891 in LaPorte City, Iowa, moving to North Dakota and then on to Brant, Alberta in 1907. After his marriage to Candace Beagle in 1910 he took up a homestead in the Bow City area, moving to the Arrowwood district in 1918. His wife and two of their children predeceased him. In 1939 he married Nellie Miller, who survives him with seven sons and three daughters. All living in the Arrowwood district, they are Harold, Hurley, Leonard, Dayton, Donald, Arnold and Lyle. Mrs. Helen Jones, Mrs. Ruby Beckner and Marlene at home. He is also survived by 31 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren; two brothers, Roy of Salem, Ore., and Willie of Vancouver, B.C., and two sisters, Mrs. Alma Beagle of Armada and Mrs. Alma Kennedy of High River.

Services were conducted from the Arrowwood Church of the Brethren on Monday, Oct. 11, with Rev. Willard McDaniel from Minot, N.D., officiating.

Honorary pallbearers were Marvin Norton, Paul Jones, Sam Francis, Warren Leadbeater, Eli Holoboff and Chester Arney. Pallbearers were six of his grandsons, Ray and Casey Jones, Tom, Melvin, Darrell and Darwin Williams.

Interment was in the Arrowwood cemetery with the Vulcan Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Courage doesn't consist in feeling no fear, but in conquering fear.

Social Credit Leader Hits Socialistic Plans Of Old Line Parties

Harvest took precedence over to be driven to Calgary to catch politics and a small audience of about 60 persons was on hand last Friday night at the CCHS auditorium to hear National Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson speak on behalf of Ernie Patterson of Claresholm, Social Credit candidate for the Macleod riding.

Lauding the interest of young men such as 29-year-old Mr. Patterson in national politics, Mr. Thompson said that there is a great need for younger men in parliament and urged support for the Social Credit nominee. "We do not need old men fighting in parliament," he said, referring to the parliamentary tactics of Prime Minister Pearson and Opposition Leader Diefenbaker. "Younger men can do a better job."

The November 8 election is shaping up as the most Christmas-like we've ever had, Mr. Thompson said, with the Liberals and Conservatives trying to outdo each other in promising things to the voters. He flayed the projected federal medicare program for its compulsory aspects and said that the social security plan which goes into effect January 1 is "a bad bargain financially."

The Liberal and Conservative parties have both forgotten their principles, he said, and their socialistic measures they are introducing are rapidly turning Canada into a welfare state.

Mr. Thompson's speech was cut short when a private plane that was to take him from Vulcan to Edmonton was unable to land here, making it necessary for him

Loses Finger In Combine Accident

Earl Erickson suffered the loss of one finger and painful lacerations to his left hand in an accident which occurred while he was combining last Friday evening.

Mr. Erickson was on top of the combine and when he reached out with his left hand to steady himself the hand became entangled in a V-belt pulley.

He was rushed to Vulcan for medical attention and the finger was amputated. One hundred stitches were required to close cuts and lacerations on his hand and wrist.

Rebekah Warden Visits

Mrs. Doris Allard, Warden of the Rebekah Assembly of Alberta, made an official visit to Cloverleaf Rebekah Lodge No. 37 on October 4, 1965.

Late harvesting due to weather conditions prevented many members from attending but all offices were filled and a display of the work was very favorably received by the visitor.

A gift was presented on behalf of the lodge. A social hour followed the meeting. Lunch tables were decorated in autumn colors.

Pheasants?

Pheasant season opens in this area Friday, Oct. 15, a week later than the normal Thanksgiving weekend start.

What is causing concern among county farmers is that the country, certainly not overrun with pheasants this year, will be overrun with hunters thereby further depleting the already scanty population. Last winter's bitter weather was especially hard on bird life in this area and although about 1150 roosters and hen pheasants were placed in the county there is far less evidence of the game bird than in any recent year.

With this in mind more and more farmers who normally do not post their land are doing so this year.

Duck hunting has still not reached the bountiful stage of a few years ago and most shooting is being done in the Lomond and Lake McGregor area. Thousands of geese are reported east of Vulcan and many successful shoots have been staged on these birds.

How Much Juice is in the Can?

Last year Consumers' Association of Canada measured juices in six standard sizes of can. In three sizes they found cans which did not contain the amount of juice stated on the label. However, most of the cans met the Department of Agriculture regulation concerning headspace. It looked as if it were not possible for manufacturers always to fill certain sizes so that the can, after processing, contained the amount of juice stated on the label.

The Department of Agriculture was asked to revise labels of canned juices to state the contents correctly, since the cans are international standard sizes and cannot be changed easily.

CAC understands that new revised labels will be required by January 1, 1966. When this comes into effect, you can be sure when you buy any size of canned juice, that you are getting the amount stated on the label. We couldn't be sure of this in the past.

Machines Can Make Mistakes!

Do you check your monthly statements carefully? Check your budget statement. Reports have reached CAC of continual mistakes made by some department stores in their budget accounts. This has been drawn to the stores attention. Don't forget that even machines can make mistakes!

OVERWINTERING TURFGRASS

At this time of the year most home owners are wondering what they should do to prepare their lawns for winter. Many stop watering, cutting, and fertilizing their lawns quite early in the fall. At the Lethbridge Research Station we have found that, if turfgrass goes into the winter dry and unclipped, it looks very poor in the spring and takes several weeks to bring it back to condition.

Most damage to turfgrass from disease and other causes occurs during the winter. Winterkilling seldom is caused by subzero temperatures alone, but it may also result from desiccation or attack by fungus organisms that thrive at low temperatures. The disease most commonly caused by these low-temperature fungi is called snow mold. In the spring it is recognized by irregular patches of dead turf and frequently a mass of white mold is seen on the grass just after the snow melts.

Snow mold may be controlled with an inorganic mercury fungicide, such as Calo-clor or Merfusan, used as directed on the label. It should be applied in the late October, preferably before the first heavy snowfall.

If certain areas of the lawn are repeatedly damaged by cold injury or desiccation, the damage may be avoided with a snow trap. Snow may be trapped with small snow fences or by covering the grass with brush.

General recommendations for preparing the turf for winter are:

- 1) Continue cutting, watering and fertilizing the lawn until the end of October.
- 2) If required, treat for snow mold, cold injury, or desiccation by methods described.

SAFETY FIRST

If drinking water is taken from a natural source such as a stream, have it tested for purity. Until it has passed a safety test, boil for five minutes any to be used for drinking. To get rid of any flat taste, pour it from one container to another to aerate it.

EEK, THE FREAK. People who are incessant talkers are often said to be "Born mouthy" and that's what actually happened to the young colt pictured above. This lady was born on the farm of Ernie Rast of Blackie with a deformed head giving her a mouth about three times the normal size. Despite her novel appearance the horse is healthy and doing well and has no problems in a hay eating contest.

If Esther continues to earn this amount from her business until age 65, she and her husband, who is disabled and cannot work, can look forward to a retirement income of $104.17 from the Plan and $75 from Old Age Security—a total of $179.17 a month. When her husband receives Old Age Security, their income will be $254.17 a month.

Should Esther die anytime after 1967, having contributed until her death, her husband will receive a disabled widower's pension of $64.06 a month until he reaches age 65. At that time, or if he is already 65 when Esther dies, his pension under the Plan will be $62.50 a month plus $75 a month Old Age Security. On the death of his wife, Mr. Meyer will also be entitled to a lump sum payment of $500.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The actual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and in wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

What will the Plan cost you?

If, like Esther, you have self-employed earnings of $5,800 a year, you will pay $158.40 a year which is 3.6% of $4,400, the maximum amount upon which contributions are payable. Payment will be in instalments in the same way you pay your income tax.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Hobson's Choice

Hobson was an innkeeper, famous for the way he asked his guests what they would like for dinner. When they had told him what they would like, he would tell them what they could have. Thus the meals he served came to be known as "Hobson's Choice."

The offer of medicare assistance being made by the government of Canada to the governments of the provinces is very much like the choice of food that Hobson offered his guests. The provinces may express their opinions but the final decisions are being made by the federal government.

Under the provisions of the BNA Act, such matters as health and welfare are the responsibility of the provincial, not of the federal government. But the eagerness of our federal politicians to share in the power and the glory of promoting state welfare in Canada has committed them to some form of compulsory, national health insurance regardless of its cost, regardless of its merits or demerits, regardless of the hardship it is sure to impose on the people least able to afford it, and regardless of the BNA Act.

At the recent federal-provincial conference, it fell to the lot of the federal government to formulate a plan for nation-wide, tax-supported, compulsory medicare insurance that would be acceptable to all the provinces, and that would circumvent the provision in the BNA Act confining such responsibilities to the provincial government. Though it failed to produce a plan that would give all the provinces more than it would take from them, the federal government did devise one that most of the provincial governments feel it would be politically inexpedient to reject.

At first glance the plan seems to be simple and generous. Under it the federal government undertakes to pay half the cost of any compulsory medicare insurance plan established and operated by a provincial government.

During the last three years Saskatchewan has been operating a partial medicare insurance plan which was intended to be financed by a tax of $12 per family per year on the people. After the first year of operation, the tax doubled to $24 per family. But $24 comes far short of paying the cost, and the government is afraid to increase the tax to anything like the full cost. The offer of the federal government to pay half the total cost of the plan looks like manna from Heaven to the people of Saskatchewan. But is it?

The Government of Canada has neither manna nor money to give to anyone; and whatever it gives, it must first collect from the people of all the provinces, Saskatchewan included. There is no possibility of the people of Saskatchewan, or of any other province, securing exemption from the taxes which the government of Canada will have to collect in order to pay its share of the cost of these proposed medicare insurance plans.

The Government of Alberta believes that charity should be given only to those who need it, that it is a sinful waste of the taxpayers' money and a betrayal of trust to give charity where it is not needed. For this reason, Premier Manning is opposed. But what choice has he? His people will be taxed by the federal government to support the plan whether they join it or not and whether they receive any benefits from it or not. Under such conditions Alberta is more than likely to go along.

British Columbia is in a similar position and will also go along rather than be taxed without receiving benefits.

Manitoba is not opposed to the idea of some form of medicare insurance; but not at the expense of every other reform; and before committing itself, it wants to know exactly what it will cost and what other needed reforms might have to be abandoned if this one is adopted. But here again the province has little choice, for, whether it joins in the plan or not, its people are going to be taxed to pay the federal government's share of the costs.

The same is true of other provinces. They are asked whether or not they approve of the plan, but they know that whether or not they join it their people are going to be taxed to pay for it.

Miller's friends will also be pleased to note he has just celebrated his 85th birthday on Sept. 19. He is still hale and hearty on his original land he homesteaded in 1905.

According to old newspaper clippings from his birthplace in Jasper County, Iowa, he weighed one pound at birth and a silver dollar placed on his nose covered his face. All of his friends and neighbors wish him many more years of health and prosperity.

A.A.R.N. Meets

The fall session of the A.A.R.N. commenced at 8 o'clock in the Anglican church basement. There were 15 members present.

Due to the absence of president Shirley Walker, vice-president Shirley Houlton took the chair.

It was decided the chapter would pay the registration fee for any member interested in attending the Lethbridge workshop in November. It was decided to hold the annual dance on Dec. 29; arrangements to commence at this meeting.

A very interesting and informative talk was then given by one of the members followed by a question and answer period. A delicious lunch was served by two of the members.

The next meeting will be on Nov. 3 and all members are asked to attend.

SUNDAY SERVICES

MEMORIES OF CHURCHILL

Following their recent Centennial Exchange Trip to Churchill, Man., chaperone Don Green, JoAnn Richardson, Larry Mumby cast their own reflections of the tour which when put together by Chuck Brinton came out as follows:

To that Godforsaken land
Of only cold and frozen sand
The County of Vulcan came
And ne'er shall Churchill be the same.

We came in a group of 24
The escorts added a couple more
Dressed in coats of teal-blue
They say we made a handsome crew.

When at the station we did arrive
The people they were much alive
When to our billets we did go
Our hosts met us with a kind hello.

To the rocket launch we went
And there an afternoon we spent
When to the youth club we did go
The X-L's provided quite a show.

The boats that took us to Fort Prince of Wales
Were all motor powered without any sails,
The Fort of today is very much changed
Since all of the walls have been rearranged.

A Norwegian vessel, the Jarabella
With her Norwegian captain, a very fine fella
Was towed into port and tied to the dock
Then we toured the ship in one large flock.

The Churchill terminal was large in size
The ships of the world there made their buys
5,000,000 bushels of golden grain
Can be loaded on ships with little strain.

The big white whales, they were a sight
As they danced by the glow of the northern light
The Arctic grayling leap in the stream
Seemed easy to catch in Mr. Green's dream.

Many hours were spent at the beach
Finding souvenirs, a many for each,
Other hours were spent on the rocks
Resulting of course, in many fine talks.

People of Churchill, we thank you all
We enjoyed ourselves and had a ball,
But whatever you do, don't become too gay,
We'll be back some year for a longer stay.

GOLDHAWK — SANDBERG

Newlyweds To Live At Vulcan

The Vulcan United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on August 21, 1965 at 3:00 p.m. when Shirley June, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sandberg, exchanged marriage vows with Gordon Malcolm Goldhawk, eldest son of Gordon H. Goldhawk of Vancouver, B.C. Rev. Wellington Dormer performed the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with baskets of gladiolas and the pews were marked with sweetpeas, tied with white satin ribbon.

The organist, Billy Tompkins played as the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. The bride looked beautiful in a full skirted floor length gown of silk taffeta. Seed pearl appliques adorned the bodice and lily point sleeves. The bouffant skirt featured seed pearl appliques as well as a lace insert in front caught up with a rose resembling the larger one in the back waistline. A crown of pearls and crystals topped the bride's four-tiered nylon tulle veil. Shirley's only jewellery was a cultured pearl droplet, Gordon's gift to her. To complete her ensemble the bride carried a bouquet of red roses assembled on her white Bible.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Joyce Kreutz, and the bridesmaids, Connie Slade and Joanne Fletcher were identical coral street length sheaths with nylon over net overskirts. They wore white accessories and carried bouquets of light pink carnations. The flower girl, Patti French, wore a white organza dress and carried a basket of sweet peas. She also wore a band of sweetpeas in her hair. Attending the groom was Ronald Sandberg and George Sandberg Jr. and Larry Kreutz ushered the guests to their seats.

Mrs. Mary Jane Hilz sang O

Perfect Love before the ceremony and during the signing of the register she sang O Promise Me.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sandberg chose a beige floral two piece ensemble with white accessories complemented with a corsage of tallman roses.

Merle Smith acted as master of ceremonies at the reception for 85 guests in the Church Hall. Rev. Dormer asked the blessing and Bus Green proposed the toast to the bride. Ronald Sandberg proposed a toast to the bridesmaids. After the bride and groom cut their cake, they served each of their guests.

For travelling, the bride changed to a 3-piece blue and white double knit suit. Her corsage was of red roses. After a honeymoon trip to Yellowstone Park and points in Wyoming the happy couple have taken up residence in Vulcan.

Out-of-town guests were from Vancouver and Grassmere, B.C., Eckville, Red Deer, Wetaskiwin, Calgary, Nanton, Claresholm, Brant, Cayley, Stavely and De Winton.

To celebrate the occasion a party was held recently in the community centre. The hall was suitably decorated with a large anniversary cake gaily decorated and flanked by pink and white streamers and silver bells.

All past and present members were entertained by songs, cards, a reading on the history of the club and dancing to Frasers' Orchestra. At midnight a cold supper was served, followed by a sing-song.

Although inclement weather prevailed, out of the district guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Beeston, Hanna; Mr. and Mrs. R. Beere, Pincher Creek; Mr. and Mrs. H. Taylor, Fort Macleod; Mrs. J. CHAMPION

U.C.W. MEETING

The October meeting of Unit One from the UCW was held at the home of Mrs. Deal with six members and two visitors present. The meeting was called to order by the president Mrs. B. McLean and opened by repeating the Creed in unison. Mrs. Siler read a prayer.

The subject for the afternoon was the bazaar which will be held on November 6, and showing articles which were made for the bazaar. More cloth was given out to make shoe carriers.

Mrs. Siler was asked to take the devotional for the next meeting. Mrs. Miller moved adjournment. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Deal.

CARMANGAY

CENTENNIAL PROJECT

The first meeting to discuss the Centennial project for Carmangay and district was held October 6 with 18 interested persons present. Ben Brown was chairman for the evening with Mrs. Elsie McIntyre as secretary.

Many ideas were brought out and discussed but no definite plans were made, as it is hoped that at the next meeting the country people will be able to attend.

A committee was formed with Mrs. Barbara Hwozdecki as chairman for the coming meeting, a date will soon be announced. As plans have to be in to the Centennial committee by December 31, 1965, no time should be wasted in planning the project.

John Tremblay, salesman, got a Scotia Plan Loan—$400—in 60 minutes.

John Tremblay needed $400 in a big hurry. As he was reading his newspaper one night he noticed a Bank of Nova Scotia advertisement. It made good sense to John so the next day he was at his nearest Scotiabank. He met the manager—explained his problem—and after a few quick questions about his job, income and how much money he needed John Tremblay breathed a sigh of relief.

IN 60 MINUTES John Tremblay knew he would have all the money he needed. Of course, this actual customer was not named John Tremblay—and not all Scotia Plan Loans take 60 minutes—the time varies with the circumstances.

But there are more and more people with all kinds of names and jobs coming to The Bank of Nova Scotia to have their money problems solved—quickly. Why don't you?

A SCOTIA PLAN LOAN is one of the best—most practical ways for you to consolidate your debts. Your loan is life-insured at no extra cost. You get speedy service. You get the other advantage of dealing with the interested Scotiabank people. So talk over your money problem—whatever it is—debt consolidation—a new car—with the people at your nearest Scotiabank. They're ready and waiting to help you. How much money do you need?

Vulcan District Homesteader Looks Back

(By "Maverick")

We remember Section 4 as a pioneer's landmark on the old wagon trails of yesteryear. In the days before homesteaders' fences crossed these rights-of-way, settlers were allowed unobstructed passage over the entire prairie rangeland. The most important point of interest to the traveller was the campsite, which had to be at or near a creek or spring for water supply.

These river crossings or fords were tricky things and the greenhorn had to be alert in crossing when these streams ran high, so that fords were usually at a point wide and shallow with a good substantial bottom.

One of the best known of the old wagon trails was the Blackfoot Trail, which ran between the Blackfoot reserve at Gleichen and Cluny to the Blood and Peigan reserves in the south.

This trail crossed the Little Bow creek in the S.E. ¼ of Sec. 4-14-24 at the Purcell & Baldwin Ranch. The S.W. quarter of this section was homesteaded by John Bastin from England and the N.E. quarter was homesteaded by Mildred Van Horne, a member of a well known Lethbridge family who had come from Kingston, Ont. The N.W. quarter was homesteaded by Charles R. Williamson from Ingersoll, Ont. The west half of this Section 4 is now owned by Gus Erdman.

Charles Williamson was home- stead inspector for the district from Lethbridge north to township 18. In the early days the Williamson youngsters had the experience of herding both horses and cattle on the open range on both sides of the Little Bow before rural schools were established. They later attended Washington school, the first rural school constructed north of the river.

In the year 1906 (the San Francisco earthquake year), the price of cattle was $34 a head for a whole herd, with calves thrown in gratis. Mature steers, three and four years old, would fetch $40 a head.

The years of 1906 and 1907 saw the last of the large cattle round-ups in this part of the country. The tough winter closed out many of the cattle ranches and the ranchers turned to raising horses to meet the needs of the settlers for power for working their homesteads. The price of horses rose steadily — $200 and up to $300 was a common price for a good horse. MacKay Bros. of Carman-gay owned a span of geldings worth $2,000 and these were shown at various fairs.

So much for Sec. 4-14-24. But another Section 4 just 12 miles north was also an important spot in the early days. The brothers Galbraith from Orangeville, Ont. homesteaded Sec. 4-16-24 and established the first illustration farm in the district. D. H. Galbraith was highly skilled in agriculture, being a graduate of the Ontario College at Guelph and he never tired of producing varieties of grains and shrubbery from experimental stations and other sources.

The Galbraiths' seed grain and plants were in good demand and they also introduced the first good breeding stock of draught and thoroughbred horses as well as dairy cattle.

A. Clark Galbraith was a school teacher and was also secretary-treasurer of our large local improvement district before the municipal districts were established. At that time land taxes were levied via Edmonton and we were taxed the whole sum of two dollars per quarter section. A. C. Galbraith later became secretary of the Calgary Stock Exchange.

We sent D. H. "Hee" Galbraith as our representative to the provincial legislature to clear off another brush job on Section 4-53-24, due north of Vulcan (today the joint is known as Edmonton). In April 1910 there was a terrible political catastrophe on this particular section — it was known as the Alberta and Great Waterways Mithquake, a real mess. The first

Rising From The Ocean Depths...

During recent Royal Navy Submarine Escape Trials off Malta 10 men safely reached the surface of the sea from a depth of 500 feet. This breaks all known records. The previous official record, set up also by the Royal Navy in undersea tests in the Mediterranean in 1962, was from a depth of 250 feet.

The increasing depths at which modern submarines operate make the latest feat of great importance to submarine crews all over the world. In this field of tests and performances Britain holds a commanding lead.

The tests from 500 feet were made from the British submarine Orpheus (1,610 tons). The "escapers" were released one by one at intervals of three-and-a-half minutes.

To make his "escape" from the submarine, each man—you might call him a "diver in reverse"—entered a built-in cylinder which was then flooded at increasing pressures.

When the water in the cylinder reached the pressure of the sea outside the submarine, the man was automatically released and the equipment he was wearing carried him swiftly to the surface.

This equipment includes a special kind of submarine escape-suit designed and developed in Britain. It is made of cotton material and has a hood which covers the face and shoulders. The hood has a plastic face-piece through which the man can see. He also wears a life-jacket, inflated with air. As he rises from the depths, the decreasing pressure of the sea allows a regulated quantity of air to escape from his life-jacket. This air is led through a pipe to his hood and so enables him to go on breathing under the sea until he gets up to the surface.

The equipment and technique have been developed to avoid the possibility of the "escaper" falling victim to the deep sea diver's sickness called "the bends".

Before the latest and earlier tests in the open sea took place, England.

the equipment had been tried out many times at a Royal Navy station and laboratory in southern

THE VULCAN ADVOCATE

REPORT FROM EDMONTON

(By J. WALLY STRANG)

Spent the best part of the week in Whitehorse where the political pot is starting to simmer. The capital of the Yukon as most people know is the Conservative stronghold of Eric Neilson.

Being an outsider and after spending a week in the north... I would like to go out on a limb and predict that Mr. Neilson is about to take a tumble and will be replaced by Liberal Ray McKamey. Seems like the folks in the Yukon are not too happy with the treatment Mr. Neilson has afforded them. They feel that he should have been worrying about the problems of the Yukon and not trying to investigate the Dorion enquiry.

To make matters worse for Mr. Neilson, the people in the north feel he was responsible for the publicity geared to make the Indian agent look good and the government look bad. The story is that Mr. Grant took more than 70 thousand dollars earmarked for different families and put the money where he thought it would do the most good. If he thought a family was going to use the money for liquor, he would not give it to them and put it to use building homes, etc. Almost like a Northern Robin Hood.

Still on the North... If you think sometime while watching television, that a show is out-dated... don't feel bad.

The shows in the north are six to eight months old. Right now they are watching last Christmas shows... wishing folks a Merry Christmas. The NHL series is still on and Lucy still belongs to Dezi. In this day and age... why can't the CBC use some of its funds and put live TV into the north through the Microwave system.

HAWRELAK AGAIN!

Hear stories that Ousted Mayor Bill Hawrelak is going to the highest court in the land... armed with enough documents to put him back in office. One thing about Bill... when he is in office... there is always some activity around the capital... NOW... It's like a church social.
